

Legal Purpose of Velux Stiftung

The foundation as a charitable organization has the following legal purpose:

1) Promotion of research

- a) in the area of daylight technology and with regard to the significance of daylight for human beings and nature,
- b) in the area of biology and medicine, especially gerontology, geriatrics and ophthalmology, including the basic principles relevant to these;

support may take the form of the promotion of specific projects, and the allocation of financial grants, awards or prizes.

2) Preservation and promotion of the ecological stability of nature, e.g. through grants for research and through support of projects in the field of ecology, such as forestry and forest management.

3) Knowledge transfer within the framework of all aims of the foundation, such as through the promotion of information and training.

The foundation's geographical area of activity covers the entire world, albeit with its focus on Europe, and within Europe, especially Switzerland.